

REPORT OF THE INDEPENDENT REMUNERATION PANEL

December 2018

Introduction by the Chair

I am pleased to present the report of the Independent Remuneration Panel for consideration by Council.

The Panel's remit is to look independently and objectively at the allowances paid to the elected members on Burnley Borough Council and to make recommendations on any amendments that we think are justified.

Back in 2015 we were pleased that Council accepted our recommendations for a three year scheme of allowances which resulted in Burnley's members' allowance scheme being more in line with that of neighbouring authorities. The Panel believes that the increases made over the last three years justifiably recognises the commitment and support that members provide to the Borough, its communities and residents.

This year we are recommending a further three year scheme but one which is linked to the NJC staff pay increases. We believe this is a sensible approach as it provides for allowances to increase at an appropriate rate and prevents the need for periodic 'catch-up' sums which are more difficult for members to agree to.

I and my colleagues on the Panel appreciate that setting members' allowances can be a challenging issue, especially in times of financial constraints. However we maintain that Councillors should be recompensed adequately for their efforts. We sincerely hope that Council members do not politicise what should be a non-political process of determining appropriate compensation.

In compiling this report the Panel would like to acknowledge the support of both officers and the political Group Leaders whose input into the review process has been most helpful.

This report sets out our conclusions and recommendations on the Members' Allowance Scheme for the period 1st April 2019 to 31st March 2022 and we hope that you support them.

REPORT OF THE INDEPENDENT REMUNERATION PANEL DECEMBER 20185

Members of the Panel

Mr David Sparrow - Chair

Mr Graham Knott

Mrs Anne Slater

Mr Jeff Thompson

The Panel was assisted by Imelda Grady, Democracy Officer.

Members of the Panel are independent of the Council and its review and recommendations are taken on a completely impartial basis.

1. Role of the Independent Remuneration Panel (IRP)

The Local Authorities (Members' Allowances) (England) Regulations 2003 require the Council to have regard to a report of an Independent Remuneration Panel prior to setting or making changes to its members allowance scheme.

Although the Council must consider the Panel's findings, it is a matter for the Council to decide the scheme of members' allowances and whether to implement any of the Panel's recommendations.

2. Terms of Reference

The terms of reference are to recommend to Council:

- The level of basic allowance payable to all members
- Which members should receive a special responsibility allowance and at what level
- The amount payable for Dependants' Carers' for children or dependants while they carry out approved duties under the regulations and at what level
- The amount payable for Travelling and Subsistence Allowance when members carry out approved duties under the regulations and at what level
- Whether there should be a payment of any co-optee allowance and at what level.
- Whether there should be provision for an annual adjustment of allowances by a specified index and for how long (but for no more than 4 years)
- The provision for an amendment to the scheme to apply from the beginning of the financial year

- The provision for allowances to be repaid following suspension or cessation of being a member or due to non-entitlement
- Whether the allowances should be pensionable.
- The provision for members to forego allowances

3. Principles

The Panel works to the following principles

- That the members allowance scheme should be fair, easy to understand and straightforward to administer
- That whilst some element of a councillor's time should be voluntary this should be balanced against the need to ensure councillors do not suffer financial loss and that potential candidates are not discouraged from standing for election
- That the level of basic allowance should adequately reflect and compensate members for their commitment and time spent on their duties at council meetings, representing the council on outside bodies and on carrying out work in their Wards and in the Borough.
- That the level of special responsibility allowance should reflect additional responsibilities over and above the generally accepted duties of a councillor and should be a multiplier of the basic allowance

4. Methodology and evidence considered

This year the Panel has met on four occasions to conduct its review, during which time the Panel considered

- The current members' allowance scheme 2015-2019
- Benchmarking allowances in neighbouring authorities
- The views of the political Group Leaders on the current scheme of allowances and any future options
- Information on the Council's decision making structure and the responsibilities of councillors
- Information on the Council's budget position

5. Findings

- 1) The current allowance scheme has been in place since 2015 during which time allowances have increased incrementally each year to give a current level of basic allowance of £3500.
- 2) The Panel finds that whilst Burnley's basic allowance is in the lower quartile of the 12 Lancashire peer authorities, it is in a much more stable position than in 2015.
- 3) The Panel is grateful to the Leaders of the political groups for sharing their views on the current Members Allowance Scheme. The Panel was encouraged to hear that the three year scheme had been well received and a further three year scheme would be supported. They also found that whilst there was no dissatisfaction with the current level of allowances Group Leaders did not want the Scheme to become stagnant as in previous years or become out of kilter with neighbouring authorities.
- 4) The Panel was asked by the Group Leaders to review the allowances paid to group leaders. The Panel finds that during the last three years the number of opposition groups on the Council has risen from two to four and at one time was five. This obviously impacts on the budget position. Our research has shown that there is a variation of how opposition group leaders are remunerated in other authorities. Many pay only one allowance to the largest opposition group leader, others graduate the level of allowance to the number of members within a group and others share a pot of money between group leaders. The Panel notes that currently in Burnley there is not one large opposition group, but four smaller groups of between two and five members. As there is little to differentiate between the group sizes and to keep things as simple as possible the Panel believes that there should be one pot of money shared equally amongst all opposition group leaders, no matter how many there are.
- 5) The Panel believes that a further three year scheme is preferred to a yearly scheme and that in order to keep allowances at an acceptable level there should be a index linked to NJC staff pay increases over the next three years. This index has been confirmed as 2% for 2019 and should be applied to the Members Allowance Scheme from 1st April 2019.
- 6) The Panel notes that in the past there has been a reluctance for Councillors to award themselves a pay rise but believes an annual uplift linked to the NJC staff pay awards is fair and reasonable approach to take. It will provide an increase at an appropriate rate and prevent the need for periodic 'catch-up' sums which are more difficult to agree on. The Panel believes that not making these increases each year will only serve to place a burden on future administrations.

- 7) The Panel finds the levels of Special Responsibility Allowances to be broadly correct and that no changes to the multipliers are required.
- 8) The Panel finds that no changes are required to the dependent carers' allowance or travel and subsistence allowances.

6. Conclusions and recommendations

The Panel has concluded that the current Scheme is fair, easy to understand and administer but in order to prevent slippage incremental increases must be applied over the next three years.

The Panel recommends that the level of basic allowance be linked to the National Joint Council (Administrative, Professional, Technical and Clerical) pay structure for the next three years. The Panel is aware that Council will have discretion whether to apply this but strongly advises that it does so.

The Panel recommends that the multipliers used to set the Special Responsibility Allowances remain the same.

The Panel recommends that there should be a pot of money shared between all opposition group leader and that this pot should be set at the basic allowance level.

The Panel recommends that no changes be made to the dependent carers' allowance, travel and subsistence allowances.

The Panel recommends that no payments are made to co-optees.

The Panel recommends no changes be made to the payments made to the Independent Persons.

The Panel will meet in 2021 to consider the members allowance scheme for the 2022/23 financial year unless called upon by Council to review the allowances earlier.

Having considered detailed evidence and interviews throughout the course of the review, we recommend that the basic allowance and the special responsibility allowances should be as follows
